

WANTED

Neville Isdell
(CEO of Coca-Cola)

In COLOMBIA Coca-Cola bottlers have been collaborating with paramilitary death squads in an attempt to stifle union activity. There have been over 179 major human rights violations of Coca-Cola workers including eight assassinations. Union workers and their family members have been abducted, tortured, stalked, and harassed.

In INDIA Coca-Cola is guilty of causing severe water shortages, polluting groundwater and soil around its bottling facilities, distributing its toxic waste to farmers telling them that it was fertilizer, and selling drinks with pesticides including DDT at levels 30 times higher than US standards.
